Course overview

The Bachelor of Community Services is a fully accredited Higher Education degree. The course is designed to prepare you for ethical, competent, and culturally relevant community service practice and to equip you with the knowledge and skills you need for life-long learning and professional development. Upon completion, you will work at the interface between people and their environments, focusing on the experiences of individuals, families, groups, and communities. Some areas of service provision may include child and family services, juvenile justice, migrant services, and community development.

Course structure

To be eligible for the Bachelor of Community Services, you are required to acquire 24 units (360 credit points) as prescribed in Units on page 2.

Requirements

International students

Completed Year 12 or equivalent. The minimum age is 18 years old. International students must also demonstrate that they have English language ability equivalent to IELTS 6.0 (Academic). For further information, please refer to our Higher Education Student Admission Policy on our website.

Local students

You must have ONE of the following:

1. Completed Year 12 (within the last 3 years)
2. Vocational Education and Training (VET/TAFE) Study
3. Higher Education Study
4. Work & Life Experience

For further information of requirements for local students, please refer to our website.

Applying for Credit Transfer

If you have completed prior tertiary studies, you may be eligible for some credit exemptions. For further information, please refer to our Award of Credit Policy on our website.

Professional Registration and Accreditation

The Bachelor of Community Services is accredited by ACWA, which demonstrates that it meets the educational and practice standards set out for community workers in Australia.

*Awaiting ACWA accreditation for Brisbane campus.

Fieldwork Placement

Fieldwork Placements are a requirement of the course and an integral part of Stott's College Health and Community Services courses. The Bachelor of Community Services requires 400 hours of supervised Fieldwork Placement.

What I like in the course is learning how to embrace vulnerable people in the community by listening to them and giving them a voice to become better members of society. Stott's College is committed to guiding students on the right path of success.
